We proudly announce the 25th anniversary of Sajeta, the international art and music festival, which will take place from Tuesday, 2 July to Sunday, 7 July inclusive.

Just as Tolmin and Soča are a natural refuge, Sajeta is a unique cultural one. A festival-art laboratory in a natural environment, with an eclectic music program of a multitude of experimental and electronic permutations, it has been welcoming creative differences for a quarter of a century.

A six-day-long experiment of music, film, discussion, and visual art, it opens up space to a kaleidoscopic Sajeta tribe, crossing the rural and the urban and following the tradition of trans-genre curation. Sajeta may be Tolmin's festival elder statesman, the pioneer of the local festival culture, and the longest-running event at the Confluence, but its commitment to continuous musical adventure retains the sincere curiosity of a youthful spirit.

Like music, a reflection on existence is demanded by the festival space, a pocket between the Soča and the Tolminka. Situated in unspoiled nature, the site is a scene of the frictions of human dispossession, but at the same time an existing utopia with which to imagine the potentials of the future.

In the 25 years of its existence, Sajeta's boutique practice with a cosmopolitan outlook has hosted many great names, to mention only a few Alex Paterson (Orb Sound System), Christian Fennesz, Caterina Barbieri, Damo Suzuki, faUSt, Lydia Lunch, Matmos, Mike Vainio, Shirom, The Fall, Burnt Friedman and many, many others.

Also in its 25th edition, the festival follows the tradition of trans-genre openness. Here, we would like to highlight just a part of the fully unmissable program: Ilpo Väisänen, one half of the legendary Finnish duo Pan Sonic and analog provocateur for the digital era; collective 33 with its baroque brutalism of techno, industrial, and art pop; an intense encounter of avant-garde female experimenters and electronic musicians of the Berlin scene in the trio Contagious; British pioneers of the synthesis of acoustic instruments and electronic textures Red Snapper; Thomas Fehlmann, one of the key members of the German progressive electronic musical imagination of the last 40 years; the unique poetic visionaries of immortal rock passion Kanda, Kodža i Nebojša; and Blaž, the originator and innovator of the Slovenian beatmaking and electronic scene.
